

Employee Reimbursement Policy

This policy governs reimbursement of business expenses. All claims are subject to audit and must comply with the rules below.

1. Expense Category Spending Limits

Each expense category has a maximum dollar cap. Reimbursement is limited to the per-category spending limit shown below, covering meals, hotel lodging, airfare, ground transport, office supplies, software, and entertainment. Amounts above a category's maximum cap require itemization and prior approval for the excess.

Category	Maximum limit
Meals	USD 75.00 per person, per meal (incl. tax & tip)
Hotel / lodging	USD 300.00 per night, before taxes
Airfare	USD 1,500.00 (economy / premium economy)
Ground transport	USD 100.00 per day (taxi, rideshare, transit)
Office supplies	USD 500.00 per claim
Software / subscriptions	USD 1,000.00 per claim
Entertainment	Not reimbursable (USD 0.00)

2. Receipt Requirement Threshold

An itemized receipt is required for any single expense at or above the receipt-required threshold of USD 25.00. This documentation rule means a card statement alone is not sufficient; the itemized receipt must show the line items. Expenses below the minimum amount of USD 25.00 may be claimed without a receipt but must still be described clearly.

3. Manager Review Threshold

Any single high-value expense at or above the manager-approval threshold of USD 1,000.00 requires manager review and approval before reimbursement. A large expense at or above this approval limit cannot be auto-approved even if it is otherwise compliant with every other rule in this policy.

4. Disallowed Expense Categories

The following expense categories are not reimbursable and are prohibited under all circumstances: personal purchases, entertainment, alcohol, and gifts. Any claim that falls into a disallowed category will be rejected. Personal items inadvertently included on a business receipt must be deducted from the claimed amount.

5. Disallowed Items & Keywords

Line items containing the following prohibited keywords are not reimbursable and will be flagged automatically: alcohol, wine, beer, liquor, bar tab, minibar, cigarette, tobacco, gift card, spa, and massage. A claim that lists any of these prohibited items will be rejected or returned with the disallowed line removed.

6. Home / Reimbursement Currency

The company base currency for reimbursement is USD. The home currency is the company currency in which all reimbursements are paid. Expenses incurred in a foreign currency are accepted but require foreign-exchange conversion review before payment; the conversion rate applied is the rate on the expense date.

7. Expense Submission Window

Expenses must be submitted within the reimbursement submission window of 90 days from the expense date. A claim older than the 90-day cutoff is considered a stale or late submission and exceeds the maximum expense age; such a claim requires a finance-approved exception before it can be reimbursed.
